CITY UPHELD IN SUIT TO CHANGE LINDELL BOULEVARD.

idge Foster Decides That Civic Beauty Is a Necessity in a Legal Sense.

Circuit Judge Foster yesterday sustained the action of the city in seeking to enforce the ordinance providing for making Lin dell boulevard, between Grand avenue and King's highway, a boulevard, in fact as well as name

The city brought suit against Frank R. Rice and others, comprising the owners of the property on both sides of the street, between Grand avenue and King's highway, and others interested in the property, to have three commissioners appointed to assess the damages incident to erty, to have three commissioners appointed to assess the damages incident to the change.

The property owners flied demurrers, claiming that, under the law, the property could not be condemned unless for a purpose that was a necessity.

Judge Foster held that the establishment of a boulevard was a necessity, in view of the fact that it contributed to the beauty of the city, and that it was a duty to have a city as beauful as possible.

He overruled the demurrers, and also a motion to have the case dismissed.

The ordinance providing for the change went into effect in June, 1962, it is stated in the petition. The suit was filed in March, 1993, it will come up for hearing on its merits at the October term of court.

"FORGED" LETTER IS EXPLAINED.

New York Evening Post Confesses It First Printed Epistle as One Roosevelt Might Well Have Written.

New York, Sept. 28.-The letter alleged to have been received by Michael J. Dun-nelly, the leader of the meat strike, purporting to be one held by President Roosevelt, was copied from an editorial in the New York Evening Post of August 1. The Evening Post says: "The letter appeared as an editorial in the Evening Post of August 1, and was explicitly stated to be a letter which the President 'might'

to be a letter which the President 'might' have written with advantage to himself and his country."

In other words, it was confessedly an imaginary letter for the sake of trying out certain things in the meat strike.

The Evening Post also says:

"We had no thought, of course, of being able to make even a presentable imitation of the President's literary style, and as the article was at the time commented upon and reproduced somewhat extensively in the press, we never dreamed of its ever coming to figure as a 'campaign forgery.'"
